

A Guide for My Trusted Delegates

An Example Resource from the My Last Words Founder Vault

The content below constitutes an email or physical letter you might write to your delegates. It is additional context for this person/these people to be able to understand your desires and act in your best interest even after you're gone. This is merely an example, anything shared with your delegate(s) can relieve them of worry and help them along the path with your wishes.

Dear [Delegate Name],

If you are reading this, it means that I have trusted you to help manage my estate and execute my final wishes after I am gone. I know this is a heavy responsibility, and I want to sincerely thank you for taking it on.

I know firsthand how chaotic and overwhelming the days and weeks following a loss can be. To spare you the burden of hunting through filing cabinets or guessing passwords, I have organized my entire estate—both physical and digital—inside a secure platform called My Last Words.

What You Need to Know You do not need to be a technical expert to retrieve my documents. The system is designed to be simple and highly secure.

- Your Delegate Security Answer: I have securely shared a this answer to a question only you would know is your key to accessing the system when the time comes.
- The Compartments: My vault is divided into drawers (Public, Family, and Documents). I have granted you specific access to the drawers you will need to fulfill your role. You will find my will, healthcare directives, financial instructions, and final letters organized neatly within them.
- The Unlocking Process: My private documents are strictly locked while I am alive. When I pass, the system will verify my passing and unlock my vault. At that time, you will visit my memorial page, enter your email and your answer, and instantly receive the files I have left for you.

Your Next Steps You do not need to take any action right now. Simply keep your Delegate Access Email in a safe place for future reference.

When the time comes, I have left a video and a "First 72 Hours" checklist inside the vault to guide you on exactly what needs to happen next. Take a deep breath, lean on the resources I have prepared for you, and know that I have organized this precisely so you have the time and space to grieve without the stress of logistics.

Thank you again for being someone I can trust.

Don't leave your loved ones guessing. Spare your family the chaos of an unprepared estate. Start organizing your legacy today at <https://mylastwords.life.vu/>
