

Crafting Your Profile

Your profile surrounds and supports your final video. These tips are designed to help you build a digital presence that reflects a life well-lived and captures your unique essence.

Your Profile Photo

Select an image that best captures who you are. While any photo works, a clear headshot is often the most appropriate choice.

While Locked

Your profile remains highly private. Visitors to the public gallery will only see your name and a heavily blurred version of this image.

When Unlocked

Once your delegate unlocks your vault, your clear photo appears alongside your video, location, and biography.

Writing Your Biography

Your bio can be as brief or as detailed as you like—it is completely optional. If you choose to supplement your video with a written biography, you might consider answering a few of these questions:

What do you want people to remember about you when you're gone?

What kind of legacy do you want to leave behind?

What are your hopes for the future, or the future of your family?

What do you hope people will say about you at your funeral?

What is the most important lesson you hope to instill in your descendants?

What are your personal thoughts on death, dying, and what comes next?

Add Your Unique Color

In addition to life lessons, your biography is the perfect place to share a favorite song, a classic joke, or the story behind your "trademark move."

Because this text sits right below your video, you can use the biography to expand on stories you mentioned on camera, providing detailed explanations or inside jokes that you didn't have time to record.

Secure Your Documents

Remember, your public biography is just one part of your vault. Use the Private Drawers section of your dashboard to safely upload and organize vital files.

Upload your Healthcare Directives, Living Wills, and Financial instructions there, ensuring your highly sensitive data stays out of your public profile and strictly in the hands of authorized delegates.

There is no "wrong" way to do this.

Whether you leave a single sentence or a multi-page memoir, your profile is simply an opportunity to add a bit more color to a life well-lived.
